

Dear Members,

I am happy to announce that the information about the closure of the Table Mesa site was incorrect. There are no current claims on this location. I visited the site on Saturday January 24, 2016 and there is still an abundance of the beautiful striped jasper.

Happy Rock Hunting